Why Do These Kids Keep "Acting Up?": Understanding Behavior Through a Trauma-Informed Lens

This fun and interactive workshop presented by Dr. Christine G. Watlington, Akoben, is intended for staff serving youth and having a desire to learn more about trauma and the impact that it can have. Workshop participants will leave with an understanding of the impact of trauma on behaviors, discuss practices that they can implement to be trauma-informed, and to challenge our beliefs about why kids "act-up." The workshop will help staff to approach disciplinary practices more restoratively and effectively.
